COMMON
LAVENDER COTTON.

NAMES.

A.

G. Αβροθαμνον θηλυ.

L. Abrotanum Foemina.

I. Santolina.

G. Du Cypres.

F. Cypres Guardirobe.

S. Lombriguera.

D. Lage Cypres.

PLACE.

In Italy it grows Naturally with us only in Gardens.

DESCRIPTION.

This is a Shrubby plant, that does not shed its Leav Stalks are woody and Brittle, the Bark is a very the Willow Turn, and coverd with white Cotton. The a Stalk set with round protuberances, in four rows end, inclining to a Sea or Willow Green. The Le is of a more Common Green. The Flowers 3. are com Small Flowers in the form of a Star 4. with five p on to the top of the Seed 6. The Style is short an are two Chives, with Apices and Farina, of the VIRTUES.

It is a Distroyer of Worms; and of Use against the

T. Sheldrake delin.